

Two seals of quality awarded to software EcoWebDesk

Berlin, April 30, 2015 – The online software EcoWebDesk has been awarded with the seals of quality "Software Made in Germany" and "Software Hosted in Germany". The Bundesverband IT-Mittelstand (German Association of small and medium-sized businesses in the IT industry) has thereby affirmed the high quality, reliability and data security of the web-based system. The awarded seals stand for competent service, multilingual documentation and data security in accordance with German law. Using EcoWebDesk, customers can manage all processes and information in health and safety, environmental and energy management systems.

Both quality seals are awarded to products that originate from Germany. In addition, the "Software Hosted in Germany" award is granted to Software as a Service products with web servers located in Germany. EcoIntense, the software company based in Berlin, collaborates with a high-security hosting provider, which is ISO/IEC 27001 certified and acts in compliance with the German Data Protection Act. Last but not least, the global DEKRA Group regularly confirms EcoWebDesk being fully compliant with ISO 14001, 50001 and OHSAS 18001.
