

Keep your register always up to date: Safety data sheet management

Quentic Hazardous Materials empowers you to monitor both working materials and hazardous materials in a single, centrally-administered digital register. Our content offer facilitates the professional management of the associated safety data sheets (SDSs).

Upon request, our experts can enter all necessary information directly into Quentic for you. We research and provide the latest safety data sheets, check existing hazardous material data records, and create new ones. Save valuable time and keep your hazardous index up-to-date and legally compliant with no effort at all.

Your challenge:

- Strict legal regulations
- Countless data records and SDSs
- Limited time
- High complexity of the topic

Our service:

- Research and verification of SDSs
- Direct upload of data into the system
- Creation of hazmat data records
- Regular updates

SIMPLE:

minimal organizational effort

UP-TO-DATE:

data is always well maintained

STRUCTURED:

relevant information at a glance

RELIABLE:

continuous service

Additional services: Compliant substance management

Use our service for updating substances and prohibitions. Any legal changes to the lists of prohibited substances will be taken into account immediately. We update your substance data records directly in Quentic, e.g. according to REACH or CLP, and link them to the corresponding prohibition groups.

monitoring of official prohibited substance lists

CONVENIENT:
implementation by our experts

FOCUSED: bundled inventory data
with material groups

EFFECTIVE:
simplified data maintenance in the hazardous material register

Create groups of hazardous materials

We reduce the effort and time you spend maintaining data while increasing your overview by organizing hazardous materials that require the same measures into groups. Directly within Quentic, we link your individual data records to collective material data records—after thorough assessment, of course.

“With our content offering, we not only save our customers time, we also provide them with a professional framework they can really rely on.”
